How risky is it?

The value of the Fund can go down as well as up. You could lose money.

One way to gauge risk is to look at how much a fund's returns change over time. This is called "volatility".

In general, funds with higher volatility will have returns that change more over time. They typically have a greater chance of losing money and may have a greater chance of higher returns. Funds with lower volatility tend to have returns that change less over time. They typically have lower returns and may have a lower chance of losing money.

Risk Rating

Caldwell Investment Management Ltd. has rated the volatility of this fund as Low to Medium. This rating is based on how much of the Fund's returns have changed from year to year. It doesn't tell you how volatile the Fund will be in the future. The rating can change over time. A fund with a low risk rating can still lose money.

For more information about the risk rating and specific risks that can affect the Fund's returns, see the Risk section of the Fund's simplified prospectus.

No guarantees

A word about tax

In general, you'll have to pay income tax on any money you make on a fund. How much income tax you pay depends on the tax laws where you live and whether or not you hold the fund in a registered plan, such as a Registered Retirement Savings Plan or a Tax-Free Savings Account.

Keep in mind that if you hold your fund in a non-registered account, fund distributions are included in your taxable income, whether you get them in cash or have them reinvested.

How much does it cost?

The following tables show the fees and expenses you could pay to buy, own and sell Series A units of the Fund. The fees and expenses—including commissions—can vary among series of a fund and among funds. Higher commissions can influence representatives to recommend one investment over another. Ask about other funds and investments that may be suitable for you at a lower cost.

1. Sales charges

You have to choose a sales charge option when you buy Series A units of the Fund. Ask about the pros and cons of each option.

In addition to the management fees, the Manager is entitled to be paid a performance fee (the "Performance Fee") in respect of the Series. The Performance Fee for the Series is equal to 10% of the amount by which the Year-End Series NAV Per Unit (as defined below) exceeds the Year-End Target Series NAV Per Unit (as defined below), multiplied by the number of outstanding units of the Series at the end of that year. The Performance Fee and applicable HST are accrued daily and is payable within 7 business days after the end of each calendar year.

"Year-End Series NAV Per Unit" of the Series for a year means the NAV per unit of the Series at the close of business on the last business day of that year.

The "Year-End Target Series NAV Per Unit" of the Series for a year means: [Highwater Mark x (1 + Hurdle Rate) - Distributions]

"Highwater Mark" in respect of the Series means (a) before a Performance Fee in respect of the Series has been paid, the subscription price per unit for the Series when units of the Series were initially offered for sale, and (b) after a Performance Fee in respect of the Series has been paid, the NAV per unit of the Series at the end of the last period for which a Performance Fee in respect of that Series was paid.

"Distributions" mean the distributions on the Series from the end of the last period for which a performance fee in respect of the Series was paid to the end of the year.

"Hurdle Rate" in respect of the Series for each annual Performance Fee calculation means the cumulative percentage increase of the Benchmark (as defined below) (a) before a Performance Fee in respect of the Series has been paid, from the date when units of the Series were initially offered for sale to the close of business on the last business day of the year, plus 1.00%. and (b) after a Performance Fee in respect of the Series has been paid, from the end of the last period for which a performance fee in respect of the Series was paid to the close of business on the last business day of the year, plus 1.00%. No performance fee shall be paid if the Hurdle Rate is less than 1.00%.

"Benchmark" means the Fund's benchmark which consists of 35% FTSE Canada High Yield Bond Index (formerly DEX Canadian High Yield Bond Index), 30% S&P Canada Investment Grade Corporate Bond Index, 35% ICE Bank of America Merrill Lynch High Yield Bond Index (formerly Bank of America Merrill Lynch High Yield Bond Index) (converted based on US$/CND$ exchange rate).

More about Trailing Commissions

The trailing commission is an ongoing commission. It is paid for as long as you own the Fund. It is for the services and advice that your representative and their firm provide you.

The Manager pays the trailing commission to your representative's firm. It is paid from the Fund's management fee and is based on the value of your investment. The rate depends on the sales charge option you choose.
